It is getting rather dry in our section again. A good soaker would be very welcome.

A little hop was given at the Maverick school house in honor of Misses Josie Rembold and Nora and Clara Lebold who were visiting in our neighborhood. Dancing was kept up until twelve o'clock when the strains of "home, sweet home" were played and all departed for home after an evening of enjoyment.

Mr. Emil Lebold and wife were visiting in our neighborhood this week.

A little fishing party, composed of Mr. C. Schuchart and wife, Mr. Emil Lebold and wife, Mr. F. L. Wurzbach and wife, Miss Josie Rembold and

Misses Nora and Clara Lebold, Messrs. Mathalmus and Archie Schuchart and Miss Gladys Schuchart, boarded two Automobiles, drawn by two crowbats, and went to the Medina for a few day's pleasure. The first stop was made just below the main Dam where an elegant lunch was spread. The lunch consisted of barbecued goat and many other delicious edibles.

The crowd was also well supplied with cold beer. After lunch the party boarded their cars for the next stopping place, which was at the Dripping Springs, where they pitched camp for the night.

The party then got their lines and went out to fish for red bugs and ticks of which a great number were caught.

The next morning they cranked up their cars again and started for a new place where the ticks and red bugs were not many. But to their surprise they found still a greater number than at the first place and all good and hungry. At night some little animals with wings came to visit them.

Every now and then one would light and run his little spear into one of the party and tried to drag him or her from camp. A few fish were also caught to which ample justice was done.

The third day the party concluded to strike for home. So after cranking their cars by twisting their crowbat's tails, they started for home through the Gallagher ranch where they made one more stop to make lunch but as the grub began to get short, they made their last meal on slap jacks, honey and pork siding. After lunch they again headed for home through the C. Schuchart Ranch over hills and rocks and arrived home about seven o'clock, all in down and out.

C. Schuchart and sons marketed a bunch of fat steers at San Antonio this week.

The Election.

The election held Saturday brought out a very small vote over the state and resulted in the defeat of all three of the proposed Amendments.

Only about fifty per cent of the vote of Medina County was polled and those voting went heavily against all three of the Amendments.

The vote for the first Amendment, relating to District judges, etc., was: For 41; Against 611. The second Amendment, or that providing salaries, etc., was: For 73; Against 579. And the third, or bond Amendment, was: For 44; Against 615.

All nineteen of the county boxes went strongly against each Amendment although the total vote was light. The heaviest poll was at Castrovile where 101 votes were cast. South Hondo followed next with 76 votes. And the lightest vote was at Verdina where only six votes were cast.

The total vote in the county was 674 out of a possible vote of 1500.

If You Knew

If you knew that the wood-way missed your feet,

And the birds call through the rain,
With a wistful note in the cadence Sweet—

Would they call you back again?

If you knew that the pine-trees shelter still

This same little pool and glen,
That nothing is gone and nothing changed,

Would you seek this pathway then?

If you knew that my heart, like a tight closed bud,

Had a secret folded there,

Awaiting the warmth of a word, a touch—

Would you care, dear heart, would you care?

CONSECRATION is not something done once for all; it is a maintained habit of the soul.—Monrod.

EDITOR Davis of the Hondo Anvil Herald expresses a willingness to deliver the address assigned to him at the meeting of the Southwest Texas Press Association if someone will inform him how to walk from Hondo to Fort Stockton without becoming "winded." As the distance is only about 400 miles, he ought to be able to make the stroll in a couple of days without becoming tired if he has a pretty woman walking by his side. Anyhow, he has seen the time when that could have been done.—San Antonio Express.

THE Sanderson Times is six years old and under the management of Jesse McKee is breasting the waves of Journalism as majestically as a six masted schooner under full sail. Long may she float!—Hondo Anvil Herald. Jesse is now the jinx that put the water in water melons, consequently, the ship is stranded while McKee & Son [unincorporated] are touring the West in their private car, loaded with nice ripe temptations.—Marathon Hustler. Which being interpreted, means that Jesse has resigned as master of the aforesaid journalistic craft and a new name is at the masthead.

COMPTROLLER Lane, all booted and spurred, is astride the State-wide Prohibition hobby and proposes to ride it straight into the capitol at Austin. There may be a political Moses who can lead the Antis out of the wilderness; but if so, he is still hidden in the bulrushes, for none can view the promised land from that quarter. As it looks at this distance, Mr. Lane's only handicap is the conflicting ambitions in his own camp. Perhaps, fate will so intervene as to spare the State the sorrow of such a man for Governor.—Hondo Anvil Herald. Cheer up! The Republic, as the inspired, ordained and recognized Texas political prophet assures that the verdict of history will be: "After Colquitt, the deluge." Moses invites you to drive with him into the promised land of the Progressive Party, and to bid farewell to the party of pedantic professors, Presidents and illiberal Governors.—Texas Republic. Moses may be a prophet, but we are more inclined to believe that "after Colquitt, a mighty drouth"; especially since "progressives" like Uncle Mose are driving in every direction except harmony!

The Dry Farmers Congress and The Press.

Following is an extract from the speech of Fletcher Davis in Response to the Address of Welcome on Behalf of the Press:

We read in holy writ that after God had made man and placed him in the beautiful Garden of Eden, "A river went out of Eden to water the garden." (Genesis ii. 10.)

I interpret this to mean that man in his first purity, fresh from the hand of his Divine Creator, was an irrigationist.

I blame no man for wanting to be an irrigationist now.

I hope to live to see every mountain gorge in this section dammed so that the storm waters may be impounded and a river made to go out of the reservoir to water the myriads of gardens in the broad, rich valleys below.

The work has already been begun by men of broad vision who can see the possibilities of a mighty success looming large upon the horizon of the future.

And if the hopes and the moral and material support of the press can hasten the dawning of that great time it will not be long in coming.

But, by the possibilities of irrigation what they may, so long as man must eat bread in the sweat of his face the vast majority of mankind must live by dry-farming and dry-farming methods.

It is this fact that lends interest and importance to the great work of the Texas Dry Farming Congress and kindred organizations.

Elected Secretary of the Texas Dry Farming Congress at Sabinal Thursday, July 17th.

The gathering of data and the exchange of ideas and experiences gained in a study of methods of plant selection, seed preservation, cultural methods, soil analysis and the thousands of other things connected with scientific agriculture—not to mention that matter of transcendent importance, the conservation of moisture—which we have at such meetings as this, is the little leaven that shall leaven the whole lump of agricultural development that shall one day transform present day methods of farming and make all the desert places of the land blossom as the rose.

It is then that the rivers that come out of God's Eden of love among the clouds shall be found sufficient, with man's conservation thereof, to water all of this fair earth and once again transform it into a paradise for the abode of man!

In the realization of this dream the press has a glorious and a useful mission to perform.

It is not alone the mission of the press to consume the farmers' surplus tomatoes and cabbage—although they are never refused but are thankfully received when tendered on subscription—but it is the more glorious mission of the press to carry to the multitudes that can not join in your assemblies the message of what you do here.

"There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth." (Proverbs xi. 24.)

And in scattering abroad the knowledge that is assembled here, the press increases the general store of knowledge without lessening that of any individual, just as "my candle is none the less bright for having lighted that of my neighbor."

And when we come to gather together the fruits of our combined study and labor in behalf of scientific farming, the men of the press will not be the least worthy, for the part they have played, of those who sit down to the harvest feast.

Resolutions Adopted by The Dry Farming Congress of Texas at Sabinal, July 17, 1913.

1. Whereas, The citizens of Sabinal have extended to us every possible courtesy and put forth every necessary effort to make this meeting a success, be it resolved that we especially commend them for their splendid hospitality, and their exhibit of farm products, including those of the orchard and garden, and express our highest appreciation of the magnificent entertainment provided. Any community composed of such enterprising citizens is bound to prosper, and we hereby tender our heartfelt thanks and cooperation.

2. Be it further resolved that the 5th annual meeting of the Dry Farmers' Congress urge all farmers, and all others interested in farming, to organize and co-operate in the marketing of farm products, as well as the production of the same.

3. Whereas, The amendment of Section 49 and 52 of the Constitution of Article 3, known as amendment No. 18, authorizes the legislature to issue bonds in unlimited amounts for the purpose of erecting public buildings without submitting the issue to the tax payers; therefore, be it resolved that we are opposed to the giving of such unlimited authority to the legislature, and we call on all citizens to go to the polls on Saturday, July 19, and vote against this amendment.

4. Whereas, The Industrial Congress was represented by its president, as well as other members, be it hereby Resolved that we not only thank them for the courtesy, but extend our special thanks to Colonel Exall in appreciation of the great work he is doing for the farmers of Texas.

5. Whereas, The railroads of Texas have been especially liberal in making rates, and sending representatives to this meeting of the Dry Farmers' Congress, as well as co-operating in every possible way, be it Resolved that we tender them our thanks, and a special vote of thanks to their men who so ably represented them at this meeting.

6. Whereas, The Honorable Commissioner of Agriculture of the State of Texas attended this meeting of The Dry Farmers' Congress, accompanied by the superintendents of the various departments under him, and has demonstrated by the splendid organization and educational work which the department is doing, be it Resolved that we extend to him a vote of thanks, and commend the legislature to be liberal in its appropriations, not only to continue the department, but to provide for the extension of the work and influence which it has on the industrial and agricultural development of the resources of the State.

7. Whereas, The United States department of Agriculture was represented by able men, who explained the great benefit of the demonstration work to the State of Texas, be it Resolved that the plans and methods of their educational work among the farmers be approved, and solicit the co-operation of all similar organizations in order that their efficiency may be increased.

8. Whereas, The A. & M. College and Texas experimental stations sent representatives to this meeting of The Dry Farming Congress, and whereas, their various experiments and courses of instructions are clearly shown to advance the interests of our people, and we especially commend the claims of both of these institutions for more liberal appropriations in order that their work may be extended, in keeping with their needs as well as those of our farmers.

9. Resolved, That The Texas Dry Farming Congress heartily endorses the good work of The International Dry Farming Congress, which will hold its next session at Tulsa, Okla., in October next, and we urge all of our members to join the International Assn., which will entitle them to its valuable publications and other benefits.

10. Whereas, Dr. B. F. Berkley has sacrificed his time and energy to make The Dry Farming Congress a success since its inception, and its great progress and enthusiastic meetings are undoubtedly due more to his good work than to any other cause, be it Resolved that we tender him this vote of thanks.

THE Hondo Anvil Herald apologizes for its failure to give more news last week by remarking that there are times when local happenings swamp any weekly. The same trouble is complained of by dailies. One day everything breaks lose and the next day nothing of interest happens. The ideal newspaper will never exist until events will so shape themselves that they will occur in regular order, day by day or week by week, instead of creating either a feast or a famine, as is the rule under the present system.—San Antonio Express.

Make John A Business Man—Mary A Business Woman.

Most parents did not have the advantages of a Business Training at their door, and are not satisfied to see their sons and daughters go through life as they have without this training.

They want to see their sons become bright-eyed, keen, alert business men, able to figure rapidly and accurately, to spell well, to write a good hand; to be able to draw up notes, deeds and mortgages. They want to see them in business for themselves, or on a good salary as bookkeeper or office manager.

They want to see their daughters obtain a salary-earning education that will make them independent, or that will enable them to use wisely anything which they might have bequeathed to them. They want their daughters to have an insurance against any misfortune which might come.

It is to this class of parents that SAN ANTONIO BUSINESS COLLEGE appeals most strongly.

Send us that son and that daughter, and if there is a man in the boy or a business woman in the girl we will surely develop it.

Write today for catalogue, terms and pictures of successful graduates. Address: H. C. Mitchell, President, SAN ANTONIO BUSINESS COLLEGE, San Antonio, Texas.

Look Better—Fit Better—Wear Better

TESS and TED school shoes have become famous for their style, finish and long wearing qualities. Four pairs will outwear five pairs of ordinary shoes made for children's wear.

Many shoemakers yield to the temptation to use substitutes for leather in children's shoes, because of the high price of leather, but we have built up our business by selling honest leather shoes.

Cut up a pair of "Tess and Ted" or any other "Star Brand" shoes and you will find that they have sole-leather heels, soles and counters. No substitutes for leather are ever used. See No. 3130—a new model for boys.

Pure Shoe Legislation is pending in Congress and many states to protect you against fraud. We heartily endorse. The rights of 100 million consumers are greater than those of a few hundred manufacturers.

"Tess and Ted" school shoes are made in a hundred different styles for boys and girls of all ages. They are designed to properly fit the foot of growing children.

"Tess and Ted" school shoes and over 700 other styles of "Star Brand" shoes are for sale by 20,000 good merchants. Don't just go into ANY store and ask for them, but come direct to our store. We are specializing on these famous shoes.

The name on the sole and the "Star" on the heel insures honest values.

"Star Brand Shoes Are Better."

: :VIEWS AND REVIEWS: :

THE Texas Legislature convened in extra session at Austin Monday. The best thing to be advised under the circumstances is that the public should withhold its judgment until the Legislature has had a chance to adjourn and retire in order.

ALL three of the proposed Amendments to the Constitution went down in inglorious defeat at the polls last Saturday. Perhaps some meritorious measures were lost along with some that were mighty bad. But taken all in all, the result is probably for the best. Texas has had entirely too much Constitution finking.

IN order to deprive some flat-terer of the exquisite pleasure of saying it first, we are going to deny in advance that that meek and mild individual who looks at you out of the second column of the second page of this issue won the office of Secretary of the Texas Dry Farming Congress on the merit of his good looks. To those honestly seeking a solution of the mystery of how he turned the trick, we would suggest that, in as much as a "Dry" Congress should have an affinity for all things "dry", perhaps it was his speech!

A meeting has been called for August 20th at Del Rio to consider ways and means of securing an inter-state highway from San Antonio to San Francisco, California. Whether there is something tangible about this proposition or whether it is merely the hot air explosions of some fellows whose jobs depend upon the noise they make, the Anvil Herald knows not. But there is a germ in the suggestion that should be carefully nursed and watched. It would be no small matter for Hondo to be located on a macadamized road stretching from the Pacific to the Gulf coasts. And such a consummation is not necessarily the idle dream of an enthusiast.
